

About Susan R. Dolan

Author & Speaker

Susan R. Dolan is a nurse, attorney, mediator, and health care consultant specializing in issues surrounding end-of-life care. In addition to her passion to share her journey back to the Catholic Church, she co-authored The End of Life Advisor: Personal, Legal, and Medical Considerations for a Peaceful, Dignified Death, the American Journal of Nursing's 2009 Book of the Year.

Susan appeared in the award-winning documentary Consider the Conversation: A Documentary on a Taboo Subject, served as a guest blogger for The Huffington Post (now HuffPost), and hosted ReachMD's radio broadcast. Susan lives in Park Ridge, Illinois with her husband, Steve.

Susan shares her message in print, ebook, and audiobook plus virtual and in-person presentations.

Susan speaks to church groups, civic groups, and organizations of all sizes. Both in-person and virtually, she gives Keynote Addresses, Workshop Presentations, Retreats, and Small Group Studies

Susan's popular topics include:

- Ending the Confusion:
Why I Returned to the Catholic Church After 40 Years
- Is This All There Is?
A New Ager's Journey Home to the Catholic Church
- Facing Death as Never Before:
A Hospice Nurse, COVID, and God

Check out in-depth topic descriptions at www.BerryTreePress.com/speaker